

VIKRAM AGARWAL

CHIEF OPERATIONS OFFICER, IN CHARGE OF CYCLES & PROCUREMENT, MANUFACTURING AND SUPPLY CHAIN

FUNCTION: Chief Operations Officer, in charge of Cycles & Procurement, Manufacturing and Supply Chain.

Personal background – experience and expertise

Vikram Agarwal brings over 33 years of international experience with global consumer goods companies.

In a distinguished career spanning 30 years with Unilever, he led transformational local, regional and global roles, the most recent being Executive Vice President of the Africa Supply Chain.

He was subsequently Chief Supply Chain Officer at Avon Products, playing an instrumental role in its successful turnaround. Until now he was leading business strategy for Dole Food & Beverages.

Additionally, he associated closely with leading PE Funds on M&A projects.

Vikram passionately believes that supply chains can play a pivotal role in generating business competitiveness to create value and drive growth. Besides being well-versed with most disciplines within the supply chain, he has a keen understanding of digitalization of Integrated Business Planning in large global supply chains and is an avid advocate of sustainability in operations.

Born in India and now a UK resident, he is a graduate in Mechanical Engineering from IIT in India, with a Certificate in Global Management from INSEAD.